ABOUT CAREER PLUS EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY :

The pre-examination study for competitive examination such as IAS/ PCS etc. is very expensive in India. The student from down trodden society and of weaker sections of the society is not in a position to complete for this examination for lack of financial support. Even our constitution desires that for healthy democracy decentralized system (representing all segments of society) should prevail.

Civil & other services constitute the back bone of Indian system. The survival of modern, democratic welfare state and its success depend largely upon the organizational strength and administrative efficiency of its Civil Servants. The recruitment of intelligent and rational candidate with commitment of the moral and social values of Indian constitution will go a long way in strengthening our national building. Under the Career Plus Educational Society. Career Plus has been established with this commitment to the secular and democratic values.

To Achieve this objective this society was formed in this year 1996 and registered with Registrar of societies, Delhi in 9 Dec. 1998 its Registration No-S.34036 of 1998.

The Society is running the Study Classes at no profit no loss basis. A large number of students have been provided study free of cost as well as at substantial concessions during last 22 years under various Central/State government scheme.

THE PREPARATION

For an average good student, one year of preparation is enough to have satisfactory performance in the CSE. The regularity of balanced study must be maintained throughout this period of preparation.

For Preliminary Exam., one should go for much extensive studies and should not confine to some specific areas of study as the question may be asked about just ANYTHING in one or the other ways. So a correlative approach is a requisite.

For Main Exam., first of all, the candidate should decide the areas of emphasis and elimination depending upon the analysis of the trend of questions being asked during the last 5 years.

For Interview, the candidate should associate himself with a group having a positive attitude and logical thinking. The candidate should discuss at least one National/International issue daily to access different views. Then the candidate must analyse all the points for reaching a satisfactory conclusion. The mock interviews have also proved to be very helpful.

ABOUT CIVIL SERVICES EXAMINATION:

The Indian Civil Service was the elite higher civil service of the British Empire in India between 1858 and 1947. Lord Warren Hastings laid the foundation of civil service and Charles Cornwallis reformed, modernised and rationalised it. Hence, Charles Cornwallis is known as the 'Father of Civil Service in India'. Its members ruled more than 300 million Indians and were ultimately responsible for overseeing all government activities in the 250 districts that comprised British India. The present modern civil service was formed after the partition of India in 1947. It was Sardar Patel's vision that the Civil Services should strengthen cohesion and national unity. The Civil Services Examination (CSE) is a nationwide competitive examination conducted by the Union Public Service Commission for recruitment to various Civil Services of the Government of India, including the Indian Administrative Service (IAS), Indian Foreign Service (IFS), Indian Police Service (IPS) among others. It is conducted in two phases - a preliminary examination consisting of two objective-type papers (general studies and aptitude test), and a main examination consisting of nine papers of conventional (essay) type, followed by a personality test (interview). From 2011 onwards, the preliminary examination, now popularly known as the Civil Services Aptitude Test (CSAT) (officially it is still called General Studies Paper-1 and Paper-2), intends to focus on analytical abilities and understanding, rather than the ability to memorize. The new pattern includes two papers of two hours duration and 200 marks each. Both papers have multiple choice objective type questions only. Paper I tests the candidate's knowledge on current events, history of India and Indian national movement, Indian and world geography, Indian polity and governance, economic and social development, environmental ecology, biodiversity & climate change and general science. Paper II tests the candidate's proficiency in comprehension, interpersonal and communication skills, logical reasoning, analytical ability, decision making and problem solving ability, basic numeracy, data interpretation, and general mental ability. The main examination is a written examination consisting of nine papers, two qualifying and seven for ranking purpose. Candidates who pass the qualifying papers are ranked according to marks obtained in the remaining 7 Papers. A selected number of candidates are called for Interview or a Personality Test at the Commission's discretion. There are four papers of 'General Studies', of 250 marks each, which comprises of Indian heritage, history and culture, Geography of India and the world, Indian Polity, constitution and governance, Social Issues, International relations, Indian economic development, Biodiversity and environment, security and disaster management as well as ethics, integrity and aptitude. There is also a separate essay paper where the candidates are asked to write to large essays from choices of topics given based on General Studies itself. The candidate will have to answer 2 papers of 250 marks each from a subject chosen from a list of Optional Subjects. Two qualifying papers are of Indian Language and English. The overwhelming share of General studies in the total scheme of examination warrants an extensive preparation of these subjects for getting qualified in this examination. Selection of optional subject is also very important, in the overall context.

The test is intended to judge the mental caliber of a candidate. In broad terms, this is really an assessment of not only his/her intellectual qualities but also social traits and his/her interest in current affairs. Some of the qualities to be judged are mental alertness, critical powers of assimilation, clear and logical exposition, balance of judgment, variety and depth of interest, ability for social cohesion and leadership, intellectual and moral integrity.
